Independent Study Authorization Form

Definition of Independent Study and Credit Value: An independent study is defined as “study given initial guidance, criticism, review and final evaluation of student performance by an instructor. One credit for Independent Study will be awarded for the equivalent of forty-five 50-minute sessions {37.5 clock hours} of student academic activity”. Two credits is 75 clock hours, three credits is 112.50 clock hours, and four credits is 150 clock hours of student academic activity. Undergraduate students may apply no more than eight (8) credits of Independent Study coursework to a degree program.

Instructions: To register for an Independent Study, the student must complete this form in concert with the instructor. The form must be signed by that instructor and submitted to the department chairperson for approval. The chairperson forwards the approved form to the Registrar’s Office for processing and registration.

This must be prepared in consult with your faculty advisor and must include the following headers and appropriate content:

1. Specific educational objectives (What do you hope to learn to do?)

Develop LLM-facilitated learning materials focused on AI literacy and core skills for workforce participants.

2. A description of academic activities explaining how the student will meet the appropriate number of clock hours to earn the credits requested (Predict how you plan to spend your time and account for it.)

Collect and analyze current literature and programs. Develop structure for learning materials using GitHub with LLM inputs and develop materials. This accounts for 112.5 clock hours (37.5 per credit hour $\times$ 3 credits).

3. Proposed method of evaluation indicating what percentages of the course grade will be assigned to which tasks

50% of grade: Literature review demonstrating knowledge of AI literacy curricula and workforce development programs. 50% of grade: Learning module deliverable demonstrating practical application of concepts.

4. Expected outcomes or deliverables for the course

A complete, tested learning module for basic AI literacy tasks suitable for professionals in a contemporary workplace (2026), ready for deployment.
